

Dear _____,

On behalf of the Universidade Federal de São Paulo-UNIFESP I would like to invite you for the:

BRAINCOMS Medical Congress

Brazilian International Congress of Medical Students - is an international conference build up by and for medical students. It will be held at Escola Paulista de Medicina, from Universidade Federal de São Paulo (UNIFESP) on October 16th-18th, 2014.

What will we have at Braincoms Medical Congress?

- Keynote lecturers internationally renowned from highly respected universities: Harvard Medical School, Weill Cornell Medical College, British National Health System, University Medical Center Groningen.
- All activities will be performed in English. You can participate either as a presenter or as a listener.
- Hands-on and theoretical workshops in different themes, such as: transplantation, suture, thoracic drainage, intubation, acupuncture, neurobiology, breaking bad news, and a lot more!
- Poster sessions: the best posters will be selected for oral presentations and may even be awarded.
- EPM Welcomes Hosting Program - low-cost accommodation nearby the event dependencies.
- Travel grants for international students (travel tickets). For more information: please contact us through email.
- We also have a hosting program called EPM Welcomes, in which students from UNIFESP receive, at their own houses, participants that need accommodation during the congress

We really appreciate your interest! Join us!
